VILLA, WOUNDED, IN MOUNTAINS

General Funston Receives Apparently Authentic Report on Carranza's Late Movements; Forces Concentrated and Communications Strengthened.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—General Carranza has asked for an early reply to his note of April 12 suggesting that American troops be recalled from Mexico. This was learned officially today in connection with the fact that Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, sought an interview with Secretary Lansing. State Department officials declined to discuss the matter.

The Mexican embassy stated that the request had not been transmitted through Mr. Arredondo so far as known there. It is understood to have been made directly by General Carranza through Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City. A reply also would be sent through Mr. Rodgers.

Confirmation of the capture by Carranza troops of Pablo Lopez, Villa's chief lieutenant, reached the State Department today from Consul Leitch at Chihuahua. The message said Lopez was being held in jail there until American officials or army officers could talk to him and satisfy themselves of his identity.

VILLA IS WOUNDED

SAN ANTONIO, April 24.—Francisco Villa, slightly wounded but not incapacitated, is reported to have moved into the mountainous region northwest of Peralta. This information, which reached Major General Funston today, is from a source that causes him to regard it as authentic. Villa was last reported south of Sonora, about 85 miles by trail northwest of Saltillo, where the most advanced of General Pershing's forces were yesterday.

Moves in General Funston's plan for a redistribution of American troops in and chief of staff of the army, General J. J. Pershing, commander of the punitive expedition.

Details of the new plan have been carefully guarded by General Funston and Chief of Staff of the army, General Scott, but it was indicated that it does not provide for the running of a new main line of communications, or of the establishment of a new border base. It is understood that General Pershing will be instructed to call in all mobile detachments except those doing scout duty and enter on a period of recuperation.

The main line now extends as far south as San Antonio, Chihuahua, a station on the Northwestern railroad a short distance west of Chihuahua city. General Pershing has his temporary headquarters at Nampulpa. Over night reports from General Pershing made no mention of fighting at Saltillo, as was reported at El Paso. Colonel W. C. Brown, Major R. L. Howe and Major Tompkins are in the vicinity of Saltillo, however, and it was reported that they had been attacked there was true.

NO NEWS OF CLASH

EL PASO, Tex., April 24.—Neither General Bell at Fort Bliss nor military headquarters at Columbus, N. M., had any information early today regarding Mexican reports that American and Mexican soldiers had an engagement with civilians at Saltillo. The report, which is not credited, said several persons were killed. The redistribution of the American forces in Mexico as planned by Major General Pershing has been in a measure completed, it was learned here today.

The troops are now concentrated in strong units along a line of communications said to not much more than 250 miles long. Reinforcements are also gathering at Columbus, N. M.

There was rather heavy bombardment at Verdun Man hill. East of the Meuse the night was comparatively calm.

SUNDAY GETS $50,000

First Collection in Baltimore Fills Four Bushel Baskets.

By Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, April 24.—Amid the cheers and tears of 25,000 persons, "Bitty" Sunday brought his eight weeks' campaign to a close here last night. More than 10,000 people, who could not find room in the tabernacle stood without. Sunday preached at four services attended by 81,000 persons.

The gold, silver, checks and notes collected filled four bushel baskets. One of the accountants declared that he believed the offering would be at least $50,000, including checks sent to Sunday and to the committee. This will exceed the amount given to "Bitty" by Pittsburghers. Pittsburgh gave him $11,831. The total number of persons to fill the hall in Baltimore was 23,250. The total attendance for the 43 days of actual services was 1,600,000. The cost of the campaign, about $24,000, was raised in five weeks.

Pickets Seek to Prevent
Men From Entering East
Pittsburg Plant.

By Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Deputy sheriffs guarding the plant of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company at East Pittsburg, where 15,000 men are on strike, used their clubs this morning to force a way through crowds of pickets for workmen trying to enter the shops.

The principal fighting was at the Talcott street bridge, where the pickets linked hands across the street along which the workmen passed. There was much disorder before the deputies were called, but it was said that between 2,000 and 3,000 men succeeded in getting inside the works.

One of the principal entrances is by a bridge owned jointly by the electric company and the Pennsylvania railroad. Threats to dynamite it were heard on the street and a strong force of railroad deputies was at once sent to the bridge.

All saloons in the village were closed as the result of a conference between Jurgens A. H. Snyder and the saloon men who agreed to keep their places closed until this evening. This precaution was taken as this is pay day and some $700,000 was to be distributed among the workmen.

Strike leaders declared that the trouble had spread to the plant of the Westinghouse Machine Company and fully one-half of the 3,000 men employed there were not at work. Officers of the company admitted the full force was not in the shops, but said many had been compelled to go home because not enough had reported to operate all departments.

More than a thousand strikers attended a mass meeting near the works at noon and listened to speakers, one of whom advised the men to arm themselves if, as reported, the state constabulary was to be brought in. They adopted a resolution asking Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh to keep the troops out of East Pittsburg. Seventy-six metal manufacturing companies whose plants are located in Pittsburgh and the surrounding boroughs announced today that "after nine o'clock" today they would not reduce working hours in their respective shops.

The companies, said to employ a to-

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Confidential dispatches from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin indicate that Germany will make certain concessions to the United States in response to the note demanding the immediate abandonment of her present methods of submarine warfare.

Whether the concessions will be sufficiently broad to meet the American demands appears uncertain. However, officials reflected an air of hopefulness for an amicable settlement of the issue.

It is understood Ambassador Gerard has received rapid intimations that the German government will go to great lengths to preserve friendly relations with the United States. It is understood to have gained his impression from officials of the Berlin foreign office, including Foreign Minister von Jagow.

The Berlin government is confronted with finding a way to satisfy the United States without arousing the element which insists upon a relentless submarine campaign.

Mr. Gerard's dispatches are of a highly confidential nature and were received during the night.

CLAIMS HIS TEETH

Scottdale Man Goes Set Found by Night Watchman.

The set of false teeth found on Main street last week by Night Watchman William Hagen were identified and claimed by a Scottdale man on Saturday evening. He said he knew they were his, because he had lost a set and also because one tooth was missing from the collection. He did not leave his name, but was very happy to get his means of mastication back again. They cost him $15, he told Chief of Police Zoller.

The man said he lost the teeth while on a little celebration here earlier in the week. He admitted that what he took into his stomach made him awful sick and said he had no idea that he had lost his teeth, too, when sickness turned that organ upside down. When he saw in the paper that a set of teeth had been found here, he knew that they were his missing molars.

GLOVERSVILLE HAS GARBAGE

Poor Collection Service There Causes City to Hire Teams and Do the Work.

All Connellevilleans are not interested in following the fortunes of the Bob Jones evangelistic party, but many of them will shortly be interested in a question which, next to the tabernacle meetings, is at present the most absorbing topic to the people of Gloversville, N. Y., to which place Jones and his workers went from Connelleville.

Gloversville, like Connelleville, has the garbage question to deal with. The city has not bought an incinerating plant, but it made a contract with one John Valdes to collect the garbage for a period of two years at the rate of $2,000 per year.

Recently the townshippers have been complaining frequently and pointedly of the poor collection service by the contractor. After repeated warnings, which had no effect in improvement of his methods, the collector was halted before the city authorities for his delinquency. The city council, and men to make the garbage collections and deduct the expense from the amount due the contractor. If the cost to the city exceeds the compensation the contractor was to receive his bondsmen will be called upon to make good the delinquency.

MUSICAL COMEDY BORN

Mount Pleasant Is Developing Broad
New Show.

Mount Pleasant is giving birth to its first comedy. Yes, sir, it is, and without the aid of any twilight sleep, since only the most intelligent managers, such as Crawford and Clifford, whose names are written in the theatrical producers' list not so very far down from Klaw & Erlanger, Cohan & Harris and some of the other big fellows, are rehearsing a production to be known as "The Broadway Girls."

Just as George M. Cohan very often stars in his plays, Mr. Tom Crawford will appear in the "Broadway Girls" as comedian, as stated by Lew Williams. The chorus—this is the important part of the piece—is being brought straight from Broadway—all the way from New York, the very center of the chorus girl industry.

Rehearsals are being held at the Grand Opera House in Mount Pleasant and after the production has been whipped into shape an engagement of three days will be played there.

PHILADELPHIA TO KEEP BOARD

Indication Is Made That Proposed Transfer of Church Extension Headquarters to Kansas City Has Been Abandoned; After Radical Editor.

Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the World, after spending Easter Sunday in the churches of Western Pennsylvania, resumed their work in the semi-annual conference at Linden Hall, the home of Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, again today. While no announcement has been made of the great number of matters being discussed, it is believed that a project to remove the office of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension from Philadelphia to Kansas City has failed through.

It became known today that Rev. Dr. Charles M. Boswell of Philadelphia, who has been mentioned as a prospective candidate for bishop, will again seek the office of corresponding secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension. This board will report to the General Conference in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., receipts of approximately $5,300,000 for the quadrants, which is an increase of nearly $200,000 over previous quadrants. The capital of the loan fund was increased by $230,632 and amounts to $1,745,536. The board has assisted 15,000 churches since it was organized and 1,600 in the last four years. It assists in supporting 4,900 missionaries and helps preachers who preach in 31 different languages.

Another subject that is to be brought up at the General Conference is Sunday school literature. The bishops here are unwilling to discuss the question for publication, but it has been intimated that conservative theologians of the Methodist Church will challenge the administrative policy of Rev. Henry Myers, editor of the Methodist Sunday school publications. Memoranda have been received from several conferences criticizing the Sunday school literature as un-Methodistic, rationalistic and leaning toward the higher criticism.

Eight hundred delegates will represent the 125 conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church at the quadrennial General Conference, which opens May 1 at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. It is expected that the attendance at the four weeks' session will be 125,000 to 150,000 persons. Every conference

BISHOP NEELY SAYS FEMINISM

Preaching Lacks Virility,

Workers League.

There is too much femininity in the methods of the church today and much of the preaching lacks virility. This was the explanation made by Bishop Thomas B. Neely of Philadelphia in his address yesterday to the Men's Christian Workers' League for the failure of the church to attract more men. To get men into the church, the men in the church must go to the men outside he declared.

Bishop Neely gave a very able and carefully prepared address on "Manhood." The same service was augmented by vocal selections rendered by Mrs. Helen Markel Knox and John A. Davis, with Mrs. A. W. Bishop at the organ, assisted by J. W. Butler, more, cornet, and Charles McBride, violin. E. W. Horner, vice president, served as chairman.

Before the arrival of Bishop Neely, who was detained by delays enroute from St. James Park, Rev. G. L. C. Richardson took occasion to speak in behalf and defense of Bishop Neely who some days ago was quoted as emphatically denouncing evangelistic revival campaigns of the Billy Sunday and Bob Jones type. Rev. Richardson said that at the time Bishop Neely spoke in Connelleville he was unaware that statements had been published according to him such a severe arraignment of professional evangelism. When this was called to his attention, Bishop Neely declared that he had discussed the subject of evangelism in the privacy of the homes of the ministers in Pittsburgh, from which garbled quotations had been made, evidently for the purpose of misrepresenting his attitude on this question. Rev. Richardson said Bishop Neely was not opposed to campaigns of this character; that he had served through the Billy Sunday meeting in Philadelphia and had not one word of criticism against the man or his methods.

W. N. Leach, president of the league, announced that the meeting would be held next Sunday will be for members only.

"In speaking of manhood" Bishop Neely said in his address, "I do not mean to disparage womanhood. Manhood means strength, womanhood means love."

Going to West Newton.

Members of King Solomon Lodge, F. & A. M., of Connelleville will go to West Newton to do initiatory work at a session of the West Newton lodge. A banquet will follow.

Travels on Ties for 200 Yards
Then Returns to the Track.

While passing through Lemont yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock a Pennsylvania railroad passenger locomotive left the rails and ran for about 200 feet on the ties. Before it could be stopped the big engine struck a crossing and returned to the rails. None of the cars were derailed and few of the passengers knew anything was wrong. The track was badly torn up.

Mrs. Anna B. Schmitz, who was treated at the West Penn Hospital for blood poisoning, was brought home on Sunday morning. She is much improved. A trained nurse accompanied her home.

SPECIAL MUSICAL PROGRAMS

Standing Room is at Premium at Many

Are Unusually Large; Banner Day for the Trinity Lutheran Church.

Several hundred new members were received by the various churches of the city at the Easter services yesterday, nearly a hundred infants and adults were baptized, and the largest congregations and collections in the church history of Connelleville were reported.

Despite the chilly weather and overcast skies, thousands of persons swelled the church congregations making standing room hard to get at some of the churches.

At Trinity Lutheran Church, 35 new members were received at the morning service; these, with 18 taken in during January, swelling the new membership roll for the year to 103. Of these, 48 had been members of the catechism class organized last September, 20 were received from other congregations and the remainder were by adult baptism and confirmation. This makes the total membership of the church 910. There were 42 persons present at the Sunday School service and $179.96 was the amount of the collection. The offerings at the two church sessions amounted to $653.33, the largest ever contributed in the history of the church. Offerings for the entire day amounted to $795.38. In the evening a cantata, "From Death to Life" was ably sung by an augmented choir. At both services persons were turned away and many were compelled to stand. There were 514 communicants at the services Thursday night, Good Friday morning and on Sunday.

The reception of two new members, one by letter, the baptism of five infants, and the dedication of their lives to Christian work by two members of the congregation, marked the services at the Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday. Otis Chalfant of Perryopolis will enter the ministry and Miss Melinda Michael will undertake some permanent form of Christian endeavor. Bishop Bashford, who was taken ill, was not able to preach at the morning service. His place was taken by Dr. J. J. Hill, district superintendent, of Pittsburgh, who delivered one of the finest sermons the congregation has heard in a long time. A crowded church greeted Bishop Thirkield at the evening service.

The new Presbyterian Church on South Pittsburgh street was crowded at all services yesterday. Rev. J. L. Prouditt received all new members and baptized 25 at the morning service. Special music was rendered by the choir under the direction of John Davis.

GOOD WORK

Proper Food Makes Marvelous Change

Providence is sometimes credited with directing the footsteps by so simple a way as the reading of a food advertisement.

A lady in Mo. writes: "I was compelled to retire from my school teaching because I was broken down with nervous prostration."

"I suffered agony in my back and was in a dreadfully nervous condition, irritable, with a dull, heavy headache continually, had no appetite and could scarcely digest anything. I was unable to remember what I read and was, of course, unfit for my work."

"One day, as if by Providence, I read the testimonial of a lady whose symptoms were much the same as mine, and she told of how Grape-Nuts food had helped her, so I concluded to try it."

"I began with Grape-Nuts, a little fruit and a cup of Postum. I steadily improved in both body and mind. Grape-Nuts has done more for me than all the medicine I have ever taken. I am now well again and able to do anything necessary in my work."

"My mind is clearer and my body stronger than ever before." "There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Ballin Creek, Mich.

Heals Skin Diseases

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, ringworm, rashes and skin troubles. A little Zemo, gotten at any drug store for 50c or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching, burning, and soreness. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful disappearing liquid and does not smart the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it today and save all further distress.

Zemo, Cleveland.

In city, state and nation; in social life, that it may be made clean, pure and wholesome.

Answering the question, "Why are not more men in the church?" the Bishop asserted that there is "a natural depravity in men which keeps them away from the church; others are deterred by habit. Young men and boys are not cared for as they should be, either by the church or by parents. There's too much familiarity in the church's methods. Much of the preaching lacks vitality; too much rhetoric and polish, and not enough points to make men think and reason. Men want definite, specific things to do. To get men into the church the men in the church must go to the men outside."

A feature of yesterday's services in the Cochran Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church was the baptism of 25 infants by Bishop John W. Hamilton of Boston. As the bishop laid his hand upon the heads of the children and pronounced their names he kissed them. Forty persons were received into the church on profession of faith, and by letter, and Bishop Cranston preached an eloquent Easter sermon at the forenoon service. Vespers were conducted by Bishops Cranston and Hamilton at London Hall at 5 o'clock in the evening and at night in the Cochran church, Bishop William F. McDowell of Chicago preached the sermon in the presence of the largest congregation ever seen in the church.

It also saved him from several severe attacks of 'croup.' Obtainable everywhere.—Adv."

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN.

Stamford, Conn., Nurse Tells How She Found Health.

Stamford, Conn.—"I am a nurse and suffered from a nervous breakdown. I had no appetite and could not sleep at night, and nothing seemed to help me. By chance I heard of Vinol, and after taking the first bottle I noticed an improvement, and four bottles made me well and strong, it gave me a hearty appetite, so I can sleep soundly night or day. I consider Vinol a wonderful tonic." Edith R. Forbes, Stamford, Conn.

The reason Vinol is so successful in overcoming such conditions is because it is a constitutional remedy and goes to the seat of the trouble. It is the greatest strength creator we know—due to the extractive medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil, combined with peptonate of iron and beef peptonate, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

We have seen so many wonderful recoveries like this right here in Conneltsville caused by Vinol, that we feel perfectly safe in offering to return money in every case where Vinol fails to benefit. Laughrey Drug Co.—Adv.

THROATS ARE SORE

because membranes are inflamed and show that immediate attention is necessary to avoid serious danger.

First of all, put a few drops of hycliclorin in a glass of water and gargle.
Be sure to rinse the mouth and throat. Inhale or spray hycliclorin diluted in hot water for it destroys the germs that cause sore throat.
Physicians are urging the use of hycliclorin, obtained at any drug store, because it is absolutely pure and pos-

What Is Uric Acid?

THE CAUSE OF BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL
AND SUDDEN DEATH.

Ever since the discovery of uric acid in the blood by Scheele, in 1775, and the fact that it had upon the body, scientists and physicians have striven to rid the tissues and the blood of this poison. Because of its overabundance in the system it causes backache, pains here and there, rheumatism, gout, gravel, neuralgia and sciatica. It was Dr. Pierce who discovered a new agent, called "Anuric," which will throw out and completely eradicate this uric acid from the system. "Anuric" has proved to be 37 times more potent than Uricin, and consequently you need no longer fear rheumatism, backache, neuralgia, or gout, or many other diseases which are dependent on an accumulation of uric acid within the body. Send to Dr. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., for a pamphlet on "Anuric," or send 10 cents for a trial package of "Anuric Tablets."

If you feel that your back, worn-out feeling, backache, neuralgia, or if your sleep is disturbed by too frequent urination, go to your best drug store and ask for Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets.

Doctor Pierce's reputation is back of this medicine and you know that his "Golden Medical Discovery" for the blood and his "Favorite Prescription" for the life of women have had a splendid reputation for the past fifty years.

Doctor Pierce's Pills are recognized as a Liver Pill. One tiny Sugar-coated Tablet a Day.

His Worries Forgotten for a Time, President Wilson Goes to Ball Game

FORGETTING SUBMARINES AND MEXICO FOR AWHILE

Submarine question or no submarine question, and Mexico forgotten, President Wilson did not fail to attend the opening game of the Washington team in his home city. After he started the game officially by tossing out the ball, he had the satisfaction of seeing the Senators, led by Walter Johnson, rounce the New York team by the score of 12 to 1. The President was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson (seen on the left in the picture), John R. Wilson, his cousin, and Mrs. W. H. Bolling, Mrs. Wilson's mother. In the crowd were several members of the Cabinet, senators, representatives and government officials. As the President entered the ball grounds a band played "The Star Spangled Banner," and the entire crowd stood and cheered. The President bought a score card and followed every play of the game.

APPEAL FOR RELIEF

Western Iron and Steel Makers Fear an Acute Car Shortage.

Central western manufacturers of iron and steel products, seriously affected by the shortage of cars, have appealed to officials of railroads serving eastern and central western territory. In a concerted effort to obtain definite relief, an acute shortage of coal, coke and iron ore may exist in the Central West, it is pointed out, unless more railroad cars soon are available.

A committee representing a number of steel works, blast furnaces and iron ore interests called upon officials of several prominent railroads recently to learn if it would not be possible to release cars blocked in eastern territory for central western trade. Numerous plans were suggested.

DANIEL WILLARD OPPOSES DEMANDS OF THE TRAINMEN

Tells Stockholders of the B. & O. It Means Unfair Burden to Railroads.

WAGE FIGHT IN DISGUISE

President of the System Averts Men-do Not Want an Eight-Hour Day and Have Always Opposed Labor to Limit Hours: Well Paid Now.

Special to The Courier.

BALTIMORE, April 23.—In order that the owners of the property have a complete understanding of the issues involved in the demand of employees in freight train service for a four-hour day with time and half-time for overtime, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is issuing a statement to its stockholders explaining what the movement means to those whose capital is invested in American railroads, setting forth the financial condition of the carriers, as well as the working conditions of the employees involved.

The statement quotes from the comment of President Daniel Willard on the demands when he said:

"I shall not discuss the merits of the demand. I doubt if I am at all equipped to do so, although I have spent more than thirty years in the service, and part of the time in the very same branches of the service represented by these four brother-hoods."

"But should it develop that some or all of these men are now getting high wages as can be fairly justified, and that the working conditions are already fairly and properly adjusted, then I do not see why the public should be required to pay higher charges, in order that certain classes of the railroad employees may be paid wages and given working conditions not justified by the facts."

"The particular issue involved in this movement are said to be about 399,171 in number of 18.2 per cent of the total number of men employed by the railroads, while the wages they now receive are in amount equal to 23.2 per cent of all the wages paid all the men."

The statement reads:

"To the stockholders of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad:
The 650,000 owners of the railroads, who have put over $7,000,000, 000 into the railroad properties devoted to public use receive on their investment about $300,000,000 per annum, or four per cent."

"The railroad trainmen on every road in the country demand an increase in wages that will add not far from $100,000,000 to the annual payroll."

"These employees, the highest paid in the service, are less than one-fifth of the army of railroad workers. They have taken the lion's share of the big wage advances of the past few years, and yet a nation-wide strike is threatened if the carriers do not grant the wage demands now made by these engineers, conductors, firemen and bakemen."

"They demand that in all but possible service they shall get for eight hours or less of service the identical pay they are now receiving for ten hours service. This increasing the hourly pay by 25 per cent, and for overtime one and one-half times the hourly rate demanded, or an advance of 87 1/2 per cent."

"The men do not ask for an 8-hour work-day. The hours of duty for trainmen must vary through a wide range, depending on the speed of trains and the length of runs. The men are now paid for every mile they run on fast trains, and for every mile they are on duty on slow trains, with a guarantee of a day's pay no matter how short the time they are on duty."

"The demand is clearly one for higher wages on an 8-hour pay-day basis, the 8-hour pay-day being a minimum, but equivalent to the present 10-hour day. Not only are these train employees not asking for an 8-hour workday, but they would bitterly oppose any effort of the railroads to make them work eight hours a day—no matter how short the time they are on duty."

"In the so-called Five Per Cent Rate case it was shown that railroad wages on the fifty-two eastern railroads increased, 1912 over 1910, $18,600,000."

"In its decision in the Rate Case the Commission stated, 'In view of a tendency towards a diminishing net operating income, as shown by the facts described, we are of the opinion that the net operating income of the railroads in Official Classification Territory, taken as a whole, is smaller than it was in the year 1910, and is smaller than it would be in the interest of both the general public and the railroads.'

Chairman Harlan in his own minority report stated: 'My own view of the record has been, and is that the carriers in that territory, considered collectively, are in need of more additional net income than the amount, $50,000,000, which they estimated the proposed five per cent increase in rates would yield.'

"It is shown by returns recently required by the Interstate Commerce Commission that the increases allowed would equal about three per cent, or a total increased revenue of approximately $12,000,000. The increase in rates sought in 1910 and now received for the first year falls by $5,000,000 to overcome the increase in rates of pay alone, 1913 over 1910."

"Meanwhile, the roads have increased their property investment over $300, 000,000, covering improvements in line, new equipment, heavier power, etc., with which through economies efcreased expenses in other directions."

"Should further increases to labor be forced upon them it will be seen that the position of the roads in the east will be even more than it was in 1910."

"The stockholders of American railroads have a vital interest in the cost of operating their properties, and especially in the threatened increase in labor costs, which would absorb a large part of the income available for dividends and margin of safety. The public has a vital interest in the cost of railroad labor because the public must eventually pay every cent of it."

ers feel, therefore, you will be interested in the facts herein presented."

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FLVERISH CHILD

If Little Stomach is Sour, Liver Torpid or Bowels
Clogged.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.
Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.
When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "Fruit Laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury.
No difference what ails your little one—[it full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhea, stomachache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.
Beware of counterfeit, fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a five-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size.

FRUIT SELES CHEAP WHOLESALE

Figures Show That the Storages on April 1 Held More Than a Peck for Every One of Uncle Sam's Families and a Quarter Million Families.

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The condition of the apple market is a matter of grave concern to both growers and dealers all over the country. The report of cold storage holdings of apples on April 1 recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, gives some figures which probably will cause all dealers interested in the crop to speculate on the movement of this fruit in a most vigorous way.
This report, which was compiled in the Office of Markets and Rural Organization, shows that on the first of the present month there were approximately 14 per cent more apples in cold storage than at the same date one year ago, and the season of 1914-15 was one of unusually heavy production. Pigeons from 127 storages indicate that nearly 34 per cent of the apples which were placed in cold storage by December 1, 1915, were still there on April 1 awaiting to be consumed.

Hope that this will be a backward spring is general among apple dealers, for as long as cold days continue a free movement of the fruit is more certain. However, let warm weather come to stay and, judging by experiences of the past, apple sales are very likely to decrease rapidly.

Doubtless there are several reasons for the present conditions. The fact that the past season's commercial crop was considerably smaller than that of a year ago led to expectation on the part of growers and dealers alike, last fall, that the prospective market would be much stronger than has actually proven the case. As a result, much stock changed hands at values in excess of those which marketing conditions since show were warranted. This caused higher opening prices than in 1914 and naturally slowed up the movement. Neither the growers nor dealers who held the fruit seemed inclined to push sales with the vigor that was displayed the previous year, when they had an enormous crop to market and the result was that large quantities of apple were put into cold storage with the hope that the winter and spring markets would strengthen sufficiently to allow a margin of profit. In spite of the fact that last fall's commercial crop was estimated around 10,000,000 barrels short of the previous one, the amount placed in cold storage exceeded that stored in 1914 by about 15 per cent.

A second explanation is found in the fact that exports of apples, from the ports of the United States alone up to March 1, 1916, were 69,566 barrels less than for a similar period last season, and April reports are expected to show a much larger difference. Had the normal export traffic in apples proceeded, the enormous stock on hand in this country would be considerably smaller.

In a recent brief survey of apple prices in several large markets the following facts were evidenced: Present wholesale prices on barreled stock are very reasonable. In fact, in many places wholesale dealers are selling below cost when storage charges are considered. Investigations made on the same day in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Buffalo showed that No. 1 cold storage Baldwins and Greenings were ranging from $2.50 to $3.25 per barrel, while Daisies were bringing from $1.75 to $2.50 in practically every market. Last fall buyers in New York State paid the growers on an average of $3 for No. 1 Baldwins and Greenings, and $2.25 for Daisies f. o. b. shipping point. Adding to these prices a fair average seasonal storage charge of 15 cents per barrel, and from 25 to 50 cents a barrel for freight and handling, one can see readily that dealers apparently are not profiting at present on many of their apple sales.

The inquiry into retail prices on apples which was made at the same time covering the same grades and varieties, indicates that while they are not unduly high except in a very few instances, still they do not seem to have decreased proportionately with wholesale quotations.

Since the wholesale apple dealers are in daily touch, as a rule, with the retailers to whom they sell, they appear to be the logical factors to initiate an apple campaign and stimulate the interest of the grocers, fruit stand

GERMAN ARRESTED, CLAIMS IMMUNITY.

WOLF VON IGELL.

What government officials called one of the most important arrests of a series was made when Wolf von Igell, intimate of Captain Franz von Papen, and, according to his own and the German embassy's assertion, an under secretary of the embassy, was arrested in New York. He was charged with having been concerned with Captain von Papen, the recalled German military attaché, Captain Hans Tauscher, the Krupp agent in the United States, and others in the alleged conspiracy that was hatched in the early weeks of the war to dys-turb the Welland canal in Canada.
Von Igell, when arrested, fought, as one of the government agents put it, "like a tiger," and asserted that as a diplomatic officer he was immune from arrest. The German ambassador demanded the return of the pa-dealers, hucksters and other retail agencies. The wholesalers in two large markets have organized already and raised a fund to secure desirable publicity. If the dealers in other markets would follow their example and carry out an adequate advertising campaign in the press and in all stores handling apples, the results should be very helpful to all concerned—grower, dealer and consumer.

Inquiries for tremendous tonnages of steel making iron are pending and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company has just closed for 50,000 tons, says The Iron Trade Review. Many other steel companies are anxious to buy.

Inquiry for machine tools and other general equipment is very active and the past week has been characterized by improvement in railroad demand.
Increased activity in foreign demand and a more insistent call from domestic consumers for large lathes for the manufacture of big shells. Current railroad buying of machinery is of large proportions and is being perpetrated by more towns than usual.
In finished machine tools, demand is very strong and further price advances are expected.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

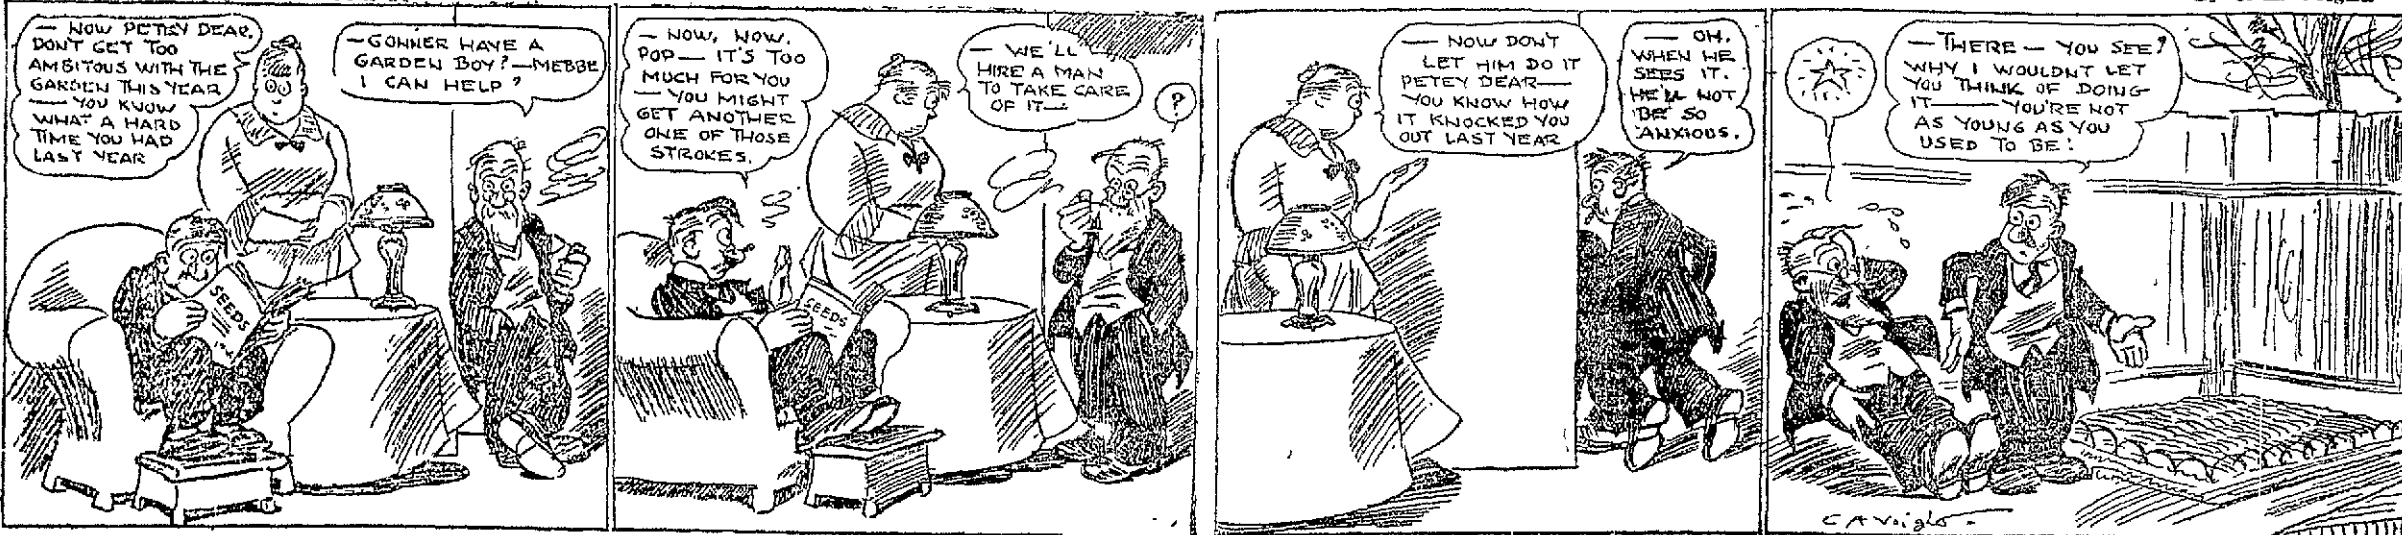

(The Beauty Secret)
"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, muscles, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, neurotic, mentally sluggish, dull-witted, worried and full of care."
But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form.
Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable castor" because of its effectiveness—relieving, of course, it is not to be classed with the real castor oil of medicinal origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "Santalol Tablets"—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall.
Santalol tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person!"

The Constipation Curse

per cent of our ills, say the authorities.

PETEY DINK—Father Had His Stroke Anyway.

BEFORE ADAM

Copyright, 1907, by the MacMillan company.

At last came the dark. She led me around the mossy shoulder of a canyon wall that outlasted among the trees. After that we penetrated a dense mass of underbrush that scraped and ripped me in passing. But she never ruffled a hair. She knew the way. In the midst of the thicket, and a large oak, I was very close to her when she climbed it, and in the forks, in the nest shelter I had sought so long and vainly, I caught her.

The hyena had taken our trail again, and he now sat down on the ground and made hungry noises. But we did not mind. I was very close to her when she climbed it, and in the forks, in the nest shelter I had sought so long and vainly, I caught her.

As for me, I played no brave part. I know I was anything but a hero. Besides, of what use would it have been for me to encounter Red Eye? He was the mighty monster, the aboriginal brute, and there was no hope for me in for knowing the strength of twigs, branches and rotten limbs.

It was an interminable chase. Round and round and back and forth for long stretches through the forest they dashed. There was great excitement among the other folk. They set up a wild cheering that was loudest when Red Eye was at a distance and that hushed when the chase led him near. They were impotent onlookers. The females screamed and gibbered, and the males bent their chests in helpless rage. Big Fico was especially noisy, and though he hushed his racket when Red Eye drew near, he did not hush it to the extent the others did.

As for me, I played no brave part. I know I was anything but a hero. Besides, of what use would it have been for me to encounter Red Eye? He was the mighty monster, the aboriginal brute, and there was no hope for me in the animals. From the nest we could hear the squealing and the wild howls, the snarling of the phantas and the roaring of lions. But the moon came out and the air was warm and we laughed and were unafraid.

I remember next morning that we came upon two rolled-up birds that fought so ardently that I went right up to them and caught them by their necks. Thus did the Swift One and I get our wedding breakfast. They were delicious. It was easy to catch birds in the spring of the year. There was one night that year when two elk fought in the moonlight, with the Swift One and I watched from the trees, and we saw a lion and a lioness crawl up to them unheeded and kill them as they fought.

There is no telling how long we might have lived in the Swift One's tree shelter. But one day when we were away from the tree we were struck by lightning. Great limbs were felled, and the nest was demolished. I started to rebuild, but the Swift One would have nothing to do with it. As I was to learn, she was greatly afraid of lightning, and I could not persuade her to build into the tree. So it came about, our honeymoon over, that we went to the caves to live. As Lap Ear had noticed me from the cave when he got married, I now evicted him, and the Swift One and I settled down in it, while he slept at night in the connecting passage of the double cave.

And with our coming to live with the horde came trouble. Red Eye had had I don't know how many wives since the Singing One. She had gone the way of the rest. At present he had a little, soft, spiritless thing that whimpered and wept all the time, whether he bent or not, and her passing was a question of very little time. Before she passed, even, Red Eye met his eyes on the Swift One, and when she passed the persecution of the Swift One began.

Well for her that she was the Swift One, that she had that amazing aptitude for swift flight through the trees. She needed all her wisdom and daring in order to keep out of the clutches of Red Eye. I could not help her. He was so powerful a monster that he could have torn me limb from limb. As it was, to my death I carried an injured shoulder that ached and would lame in rainy weather and that was a mark of his handiwork.

The Swift One was sick at the time I received this injury. It must have been a touch of the malaria from which we sometimes suffered; but, whatever it was, it made her dull and heavy. She did not have the accustomed spring to her muscles and was forced to peer shape for flight when Red Eye cornered her near the left of the wild dogs, several miles south from the caves. Usually she would have dashed around him, beaten him in the scratch-snatching and gained the protection of our smoky mountain cave, but she could not circle him. She was too dull and slow. Each time he headed her off, until she gave over the attempt and devoted her energies wholly to keeping out of his clutches.

Had she not been sick it would have been child's play for her to elude him, but as it was he vented all her caution and cunning. It was to her advantage that she could travel on thinner branches than he and make wider leaps. Also she was an unerring judge of distance, and she had, as I suspect, a contest of strength. He would have killed me, and the situation would have remained unchanged. He would have caught the Swift One before she could have gained the cave. As it was, I could only look on in helpless fury and dodge out of the way and cease my raging when he came too near.

I Struck the Earth Within a Yard of the Nearest One.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE hours passed. It was late afternoon, and still the chase went on. Red Eye was bent upon exhausting the Swift One. He deliberately ran her down after a long time she lay on the ground no longer maintaining her headlong flight. Then it was that she began going far out on the thinnest branches, where he could not follow. Thus she might have got a breathing spell, but Red Eye was flexible. Unable to follow her, he dislodged her by shaking her off. With all his strength and weight he would shake the branch back and forth until he snapped her off as one would snap a dry from a whiplash. The first time she saved herself by falling into branches lower down. Another time, though they did not save her from the ground, they broke her fall. Still another time, no mercy did he snap her from the branch, she was doing clear across a gap into another tree. It was remarkable the way she slipped and saved herself. Only when driven to it did she seek the temporary safety of the thin branches. But she was so tired that she could not otherwise avoid him, and thus after time she was compelled to take to the thin branches.

Still the chase went on, and still the folk screamed, bent their chests and gnashed their teeth. Then came the end. It was almost twilight. Trembling, panting, struggling for breath, the Swift One clung pitifully to a high, thin branch. It was thirty feet to the ground and nothing intervened. Red Eye swung back and forth on the branch farther down. It became a pendulum, swinging wider and wider with every lunge of his weight. Then he reversed suddenly. Just before the downward swing was completed, her grip was torn loose and, screaming, she was hurled toward the ground.

But she lighted herself in midair and descended foot first. Ordinarily from such a height the spring in her legs would have eased the shock of impact with the ground. But she was exhausted. She could not exercise this spring. Her legs gave under her, barely only partly met the shock, and she crashed on over on her side. This, as it turned out, did not injure her, but it did knock the breath from her lungs. She lay helpless and struggling for air. Red Eye rushed upon her and seized her. With his gnarly fingers twisted into the hair of her head, he stood up and roared in triumph and defiance at the awed folk that watched from the trees. Then it was that I went mad. Caution was thrown to the winds; forgotten was the will to live of my flesh. Even as Red Eye roared from behind I dashed upon him. So unexpected was my charge that I knocked him off his feet. I twisted my arms and legs around him and strove to hold him down. This would have been impossible to accomplish had he not held tightly with one hand to the Swift One's hair.

Encouraged by my conduct, Big Fico became a sudden ally. He charged in, sank his teeth in Red Eye's arm

At the Theatres.

THE SOISSON.

"A SOUL ENSLAVED"—For the first time in the history of moving pictures a noted novelist will adapt a screen drama and novelize it. The drama is the Broadway Universal feature five-reel photoplay "A Soul Enslaved," with Cleo Madison, the Universal star, in the leading role, and which will be seen at the Soisson Theatre tomorrow. The novelization will be undertaken by George Bronson. Howard, the noted dramatist, who on reading the original story by Adele Farrington and later the scenario by Olga Printzlau immediately recognized the literary worth of this remarkable drama and acquired the novel rights from Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company. "A Soul Enslaved" is one of the greatest emotional dramas ever presented in a film production and reaches the highwater mark in photoplays. Cleo Madison is supported by a capable list of artists, including Douglas Gerrard, Lule Warrenton and others. "GRAFT"—The Universal Company presents "Graft" today in the two-reel political serial. "Graft" is the fifteenth episode of this famous drama and deals with "The Patent Medicine Dealer," "The Imp Two-reel drama," "The Dark Devils of War," with Matt Moore and Jane Gail in the leading roles. No matter what war pictures you have seen, you have never in all your life seen such a magnificent war production. "The Rex drama," "The Still Voice," has Don Wilson in the lead. It is a charming story of a married couple who are about to be separated, when the husband finds some baby clothes, and then changes his mind. "A Leap Year Thing" is a Victor comedy with Eddie Lyons, Lee Moran and Betty Compton. It is a delightful leap year story. Tomorrow, the Universal favorite Cleo Madison will appear in the five-reel problem play, "A Soul Enslaved."

THE GLOBE.

"LOVEY MARY"—The big Metro wonder play in which Little Mary Miles Minter has a special role, is being presented today at the Globe. This feature is in five acts and was produced for the Metro program by the Columbia Pictures Corporation. Miss Minter is surrounded by an unusually strong cast, including Thomas J. Carrigan, her new leading man; Paul Edmund, Frank De Vernon, Russell Simpson, Schuyler Lauder, Vera Brooke and Harry Blackmore. Miss Minter, who is just 14 years old, has been on the stage since she was five years old. She made her debut with Nat Goodwin in "Cameo Kirby." But is best known to theatregoers for her remarkable performance in "The Littlest Rebel." In making "Lovey Mary," the Metro company obtained permission to use the state prison camps in Florida, where many interesting photographs were made. Real prisoners were used in augmenting the Metro players. One of the most historic court houses in Florida, of Colonial grandeur, was used in this production. In one scene more than 100 persons were employed. The story of "Lovey Mary" is one of the southland and most of the scenes were photographed in the picturesque everglades of Florida. Tomorrow Theodore Roberts will be starred in "Puddin'-Head Wilson," released exclusively through the Paramount Picture Corporation. Other members of the cast are Florence Dagmar, Alan Hale, Thomas Meighan. "Puddin'-head Wilson" occupies a unique place in the annals of American humorous literature. Its story, said to have been the first piece of fiction which made use of the new familiar finger print method as a means of establishing identity, is melodramatic romantic and suffused with a deep note of human interest.

two of us. The reason he did not finish us off immediately was that the Swift One clogged his movements. She had regained her breath and was beginning to resist. He would not release his clutch on her hair, and this handicapped him. He got a grip on my arm. It was the beginning of the end for me. He began to draw me toward him into a position where he could sink his teeth into my throat. His mouth was open, and he was grinning. And yet, though he had just begun to exert his strength, in that moment he wrenched his shoulder so that I suffered from it for the remainder of my life.

And in that moment something happened. There was no warning. A front body smashed down upon the four of us locked together. We were driven violently apart and rolled over and over, and to the suddenness of surprise we released our holds on one another. At the moment of the shock Big Fico screamed terribly. I did not know what had happened, though I smelled tiger and caught a glimpse of striped fur as I sprang for a tree. It was old Saber Tooth. Arouned in his hair by the noise we had made he had crept upon us unnoticed. The Swift One gained the next tree to mine, and I immediately joined her. I put my arms around her and held her close to me while she whimpered and cried softly. From the ground came a snarling and crunching of bones. It

ARCADE THEATRE.

"THOU SHALT NOT COVET"—Today's attraction at the Arcade Theatre affords those who desire a real thriller, complete satisfaction, in "Thou Shalt Not Covet." A brief synopsis is as follows: As the great ship shivered and groaned as a live thing I thought of my neighbor's wife. I rushed to her stateroom and there found her helpless. I dashed her into my arms and with her leaved into the sea. When she awoke her mind was deranged from the shock and she thought that I was her husband. In her strange madness she called me by her husband's name, and gave me all the love she had had for him. In the jungle we made our home and she came to me as she always had to her husband, and I prayed for strength in the hours of temptation. And did the man who madly loved his neighbor's wife overcome temptation? Did the woman who later came to the realization of situation, again find the husband she so dearly loved, or did she succumb to Fate? View this wonderful and unusual drama and find the answer. Besides this feature a Frank Daniels comedy will also be shown. Tomorrow Billy Burke, the great stage star, appears at this theatre in "Penny," an eight reel production from the Inco studios.

was Saber Tooth making his supper of what had been Big Fico. From beyond, with inflamed eyes and ears, Red Eye peered down. Here was a monster mightier than he. The Swift One and I turned and went away quickly through the trees toward the cave, while the folk gathered overhead and showered down abuse and twigs and branches upon their ancient enemy. He lashed his tail and snarled, but went on eating.

And in such fashion were we saved. It was a mere accident—the sheerest accident. Else would I have died there in Red Eye's clutch, and there would have been no bridging of time to the time of a thousand centuries down to a progeny that reads newspapers and rides on electric cars—any, and that writes narratives of bygone happenings even as this is written. It was in the early fall of the following year that it happened. After his failure to get the Swift One, Red Eye had taken another wife, and strange to relate, she was still alive. Stranger still, they had a baby several months old—Red Eye's first child. His previous wives had never lived long enough to bear him children. The year had gone well for all of us. The weather had been exceptionally mild and food plentiful. I remember especially the turnips of that year. The nut crop was also very heavy, and the wild plums were larger and sweeter than usual.

Note—Subscriptions collected by contestants up to midnight Monday, May 1, will count of the Club of Thirty Offer, provided the letters in which they are received are postmarked before that hour. In places where the postoffices do not remain open until midnight candidates may phone or wire the amount they have collected in subscriptions since their last remittance and the phone or telegraphic message will be counted on the offer if they are verified by subscriptions received on the first possible mail.

Just one more week of high pressure days and the Club of Thirty Period of The Courier's Great Voting Contest will be a thing of history. Six more working days in which the candidates who are to be winners will crown the efforts of an average month.

The spirit that will animate the active contestants during this time will be a constantly increasing enthusiasm that will rise to a tremendously effective climax on next Monday and result in such volubility as has never before been seen in a newspaper contest.

There is reason enough for this high pitch of excitement—or, rather, there are eight reasons for it—the eight prizes that go to make up the magnificent list The Courier is offering. Here are the "reasons": A Saxon Six Automobile worth $820; acre garden lot located in East Connelville worth $400; three $100 grafanolas; three $40 diamond rings, and in addition to the

HELPFUL WIFE.

Now, hubby, I want to be helpful. Bless my little wife! So if you have any coupons to be clipped you may turn that work over to me.

listed prizes an ample amount has been set aside to pay commissions.

One subscription plus another one will soon make a $30 club, and every $30 club of new subscriptions is worth $60,000 extra votes, and every $30 club of old subscriptions is worth 300,000 extra votes. One club plus another will soon get the automobile.

This is by far the greatest offer of extra votes that will be made at any time during the contest. It is an unlimited offer, that is, the number of these big extra vote certificates a contestant may secure is limited only by the effort he and his friends put forth. TIME TO "CLEAN UP."

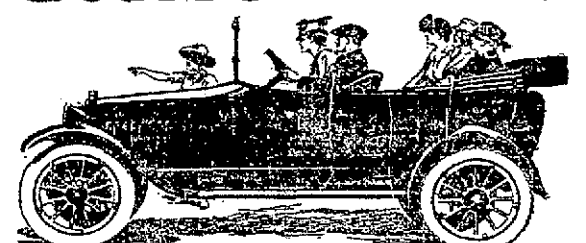

This is the time to realize on all offers of assistance that have been made by prospective subscribers. There is not a candidate in the race who has not heard many times this sentence: "I can't do anything right now, but when you need me call on me."

Right now is the time to go to the people who have said that any tell them their assistance will do the most good if it is given before Monday night, May 1. Nine out of ten will "come across" if the matter is put to them in the right way.

The new office, that of superintendent of township schools, which was recently created, was filled by the election of Captain Walter Evans. Mr. Evans is now assistant to County Superintendent Shaw. He will not take charge of this work until he has closed his work with the county superintendent, and will take up next year's work. The election of the other teachers was put off until a later meeting.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, are constipated, appetite poor, lazy, drowsy, or feel no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.
